

Division of Cardiology Grand Rounds

Cardiology on High Beam: Challenges and Opportunities

Joseph Hill, M.D., Ph.D.

Chief of Cardiology and Director, Harry S. Moss Heart Center
Professor of Internal Medicine and Molecular Biology
Editor-in-Chief, Circulation
UT Southwestern Medical Center

Lecture / Friday, November 14, 2025 / 7:30 AM / Weiskotten Hall, Room 2231

Upon completion participants will be able to:

- To be able to articulate the evolving landscape of cardiovascular science and medicine, past, present, and future
- To recognize the importance of obesity and diabetes as a global pandemic with inevitable cardiovascular consequences
- To articulate several of the exciting opportunities presently available to address the evolving challenges of heart disease.

Scan this code to join the lecture

Join by meeting number

Meeting access code: 2304 732 2428

Meeting password: Cardiology1

Joseph A. Hill, M.D., Ph.D.

Joseph A. Hill, M.D., Ph.D., is the Director of the Moss Heart Center and a Professor of Internal Medicine (Cardiology) and Molecular Biology at UT Southwestern Medical Center, holding the James T. Willerson, M.D., and Frank M. Ryburn Jr. Distinguished Chairs.

He currently serves as the Editor-in-Chief of Circulation, the American Heart Association's flagship cardiovascular journal. A distinguished cardiologist-scientist, Dr. Hill is internationally renowned for his pioneering research on the molecular mechanisms of cardiac hypertrophy and heart failure. He has authored over 260 articles.

Dr. Hill earned his M.D. and Ph.D. from Duke University and completed his clinical training at Brigham and Women's Hospital, Harvard Medical School. He is a past President of the Association of University Cardiologists and an elected member of the Association of American Physicians.

Intended audience: MD's, Residents, Fellows, PA's, NP's, RN's, and the public.

Planner disclosures: None of the planners have relevant financial relationships with ineligible companies.

Speaker disclosure: Dr. Hill does not have financial relationships with ineligible companies.

Accreditation: SUNY Upstate Medical University is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation: SUNY Upstate Medical University designates this live activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

